Newly Released Continuing Ed Tracker LIVE: Cloud Software Helping Licensed Professionals Stay Licensed.

The innovative features and design of the new cloud based software by KRC Software, LLC, Continuing Ed Tracker LIVE, automates the task of tracking continuing education credits to ensure compliance with the renewal requirements of professional licenses.

WAUSAU, WI, May 9, 2014 - KRC Software, LLC, a software and web application development company, announced today the release of Continuing Ed Tracker LIVE, a cloud based application designed to track continuing education credits and license renewal requirements for professionals. This web-based application takes full advantage of cloud computing by offering professionals quick and easy access to their online accounts from any web browser or mobile device.

"Our goal was to create a full-featured web application that was flexible and affordable. We understand that professionals are often faced with complicated license renewal requirements that are difficult and time consuming to track. This is especially true for large companies with multiple offices," states Mary Forer, owner of KRC Software, LLC. "Continuing Ed Tracker LIVE takes the work out of managing professional licenses and simplifies this often complicated task."

Continuing Ed Tracker LIVE has the flexibility to work for any type of profession from any state. The administrative back end is designed for staff responsible for managing the licenses of the professionals in their company. After setting up profiles and licenses, staff simply enters course attendance and credits earned. Continuing Ed Tracker LIVE takes care of applying credits where appropriate, calculates how many credits are needed, how many credits have been received and indicates when renewal requirements for a license have been met.

The front end features of Continuing Ed Tracker LIVE allow professionals to view the status of their licenses including when their licenses will expire, how many credits they need, and which licenses are ready to renew. The flexible design also allows them to review details of the credits they've received, add new credits received and more.

KRC Software, LLC provides a free, no obligation 15 day trial of Continuing Ed Tracker LIVE. Free trials and pricing are available by visiting <http://www.cetrackerlive.com>.
